

Canada Stands Prepared To Continue Full Assistance

Bank of Montreal Meeting Marked by Striking References to Part Played by Dominion, and Lays Down Policy for Country's Guidance—Campaign of Thrift Strongly Urged.

Montreal.—Canada's position is clear. No one can yet fix the day of the great European war—the policy set out by the Dominion should follow in order to meet the situation presented by war conditions—the resolve of the country to continue to give, in youth and manhood, all that it can to the great cause were among some of the outstanding features of the 9th.—"An equal amount of money, as a member of the Bank of Montreal, held at the head office."

The importance of the announced measures made and their bearing on conditions that the Dominion would assume in the event of war was of special significance to the meeting, and the shareholders were asked to give their hearty assent to the suggestions firmly offered by Sir Vincent, Meredith, Bart., President, and Mr. J. W. Williams, Mr. Taylor, the General Manager.

There was no misunderstanding on the part of the shareholders that it was clearly shown that many of the conditions that prevailed in the country were not the most important, and what was most important was to get ready for the time when normal conditions would be disturbed.

In this connection it was pointed out that all efforts should be centred on the three great war aims:—Economy, Production and Immigration, but at the same time a note was sounded that in the event the ability the country would show in dealing with any new problems that might arise.

Sir Frederick made special mention of the record of the Bank of Montreal in its campaign of thrift.

"As for the Bank of Montreal, contingent with its colors, I have no words to fully express our pride in their achievements, our grief at their loss, and our admiration of the great majority of deaths or amputations due to such wounds. Please let me have a copy of such a statement in war the most prolific cause of infection."

Clot treated the Ypres salient, France, and is placed here in memory of those who fell in defense of our people and a determination to all wills and every conceivable cause.

"So far, a depreciation of Bank deposits in connection with the war has not taken place; in fact, they show month by month a gratifying increase."

"As for the Bank of Montreal, however, that these increases are gotten, however, that these increases are only partially due to the savings of the Canadian people, and are due for a very considerable extent by the spending of resources by our large corps."

Mr. Frederick Williams-Taylor, the General Manager, dwelt especially with the matter of the change in the Bank's business during the course of the year and the manner in which Canadian advances as though by magic.

"Sir Frederick said in part:—'Canada is an industrial condition more abnormal in character than that of any other country in the world.'

"Canada sold her record crop of last year, at the lowest prices, in the Civil War, while this year we are disposing of a moderate crop at such a high price that we expect to have a very considerable harvest equal in amount to that of 1915. The value of our crop will be $798,000,000."

"Our much criticized adverse trade balance is due to the fact that we import

"From the somewhat disjunctive and cloudy documentary evidence in the files of the Bank of England it is conjectured that the inventor was the monk Gerbert better known as Pope Sylvester II."

"The only thing definitely established is that he was a monk of the tenth or the beginning of the eleventh century, and that he was a successor to the papacy after Gerbert's accession to the papacy."

"The earliest watches were little different from the simple table clocks of the 14th century. The case was of a cylindrical of a box-like, generally of metal chased and engraved, and was held on the side to inclose the dial. The lid was engraved, and, as a rule, was hinged on the back, over which a hinged cover which the position of the hand might be seen."

"These were produced in pairs with a bell on well, the hours were sounded in regular progression."

"Little is known about the character of the watch until the fourteenth century, when it was first brought to England."

"The watch was first brought to England in 1346, and was first brought to France in 1350, and was first brought to Italy in 1352."

Two Is Needed in Importing Good Mammal to Children

Good breeding, like charity, should begin at home. The days are past when children used to rise the moment the alarm clock rang, and go to where they were and stand until they received permission to sit. But the natural instinct of the animal in the other direction, of allowing to small boys and girls too much license to fling the house into confusion, to think the best way to train children in courtesy would be to observe the example of the animal.

I would go so far as to say that we are not the only ones who have to listen to children continually interrupting them, and to answer them, even when they are not wanted, as they grew up. And, indeed, most of their wise, quaint sayings are far better than the commonplaces of the average caller. Of course, to allow uninterrupted children to do as they please is a pose of the household, but it is possible to teach children in turn scrupulously to observe the courtesy conventions of others, and to be silent.

The best brought-up family of children I ever saw, especially in the principle of always commanding them when it was possible to do so, and not to do so when it was not, any wrong-doing which was not really serious. I have heard the children of the best families in the world fail to say any word of commendation after some social occasion, and I have heard the best of them say, "What was it?" I know something was wrong. Didn't we treat the other children in a noisy, noisy, noisy?" In that house reproach was the only punishment. Of whatever was possible to command, was gratitudo. ## Moslem Divorce

Moslem writers and their supporters in this country frequently emphasize the superior status of the women of Islam, as compared with the western sisters. Some recent divorce court proceedings bring to light the fast manner in which the dissolution of the marriage relation is desired in Moslem lands the husband can get a divorce without the right of divorce. The woman's only recourse appears to be to change her religion, which means she automatically disposes of her husband. — Literary Digest.

Russian Troops See British in Pictures

Forces of Czar Brought Into Contact With Movies For
First Time

An officer of the British army recently concluded a tour of the Russian front with a cinematograph. He had been invited to see "Russia Prepared," a film showing the British army in the making, and he discovered that the Russian troops, many of whom had never seen a ciné film, had been greatly interested.

It can hardly be that a film has ever been so much enjoyed in Russia as this. More than once the film play, just behind the firing line, was stopped to allow the British to pass. The show had to be stopped, all lights turned out and the audience of some 2000 Russian troops, who had been awaiting the approach of a Zeppelin. The film was shown in a stuffy, leaky, rain, but with the interested Russian troops enthusiastically wading through the mud.

Not one in a hundred thousand Russian soldiers had ever seen a British film. They soon learned the cause of the trouble, but it is, in fact, that, impure blood is the most potent factor in the development of disease, and it affects the digestion very quickly.

The glands that govern the digestive system are easily affected by the blood.

The new British film, "Russia Prepared," was to be displayed to the Russian army, which is weakened by the lack of food.

The mission was to be carried out in Persia.

The mission succeeded in making its way to small towns in Afghanistan. There they were arrested on arrival and eventually condemned to death.

They were to be executed in the year 1918, but the Russian army, which was then in Persia, had been more than once successful in liberating prisoners.

More than $250,000 worth of oblique, drafts, money orders and other valuable papers were found in undelivered letters by the United States' Dead Letter Office during the last year, and practically all were restored to their owners. Dead mail received by the division of Dead Letters during the year contained 87,700 misdirected letters, 115,766 undressed letters, 228,700 letters held for postage, 440,200 letters written on hotel paper by persons unknown to the hotels, and 104,700 letters bearing fictitious signatures.

Major Beber, together with Major Morrison, of Coleman, left by Sunday night's train for Edmonton to confer with authorities up there regarding the introduction of the poll tax system in Pass towns for the purpose of raising revenue. The Town of Blairmore needs other than present means of revenue raising simply because some of the pioneers and original "land grabbers" cannot, or will not, pay taxes on the properties they hold. The introduction of the business tax will inflict an additional burden upon those who are at present meeting their honest obligations and should be opposed by every ratepayer who is owning no more property than he can properly care for. The imposition of the business tax will mean that you are protecting the properties to a certain extent of parties who are not paying their taxes in full.

The opera house was well filled with an appreciative audience last night, when the well-known play, "The Rosary," was presented under the direction of the United Producing Company. The play was presented by a very strong cast, including such well-known actors as Frank Irwin and Julia Nicolay. We can safely say that "The Rosary" is the best play that has ever been produced at the local theatre, and if the United Producing Co. sends us more of this kind of entertainment they will be assured of a full house every time. Rumor has it that this same company will appear here again in the very near future in a dramatization of Roy Beach's famous novel, "The Barrier," and they can rest assured of a good reception on that occasion. Both "The Rosary" and "The Barrier" have been produced before, and it is reasonable to expect that their return would be cordially greeted.
